Your identity starts private.

Story example: I am making more room for creative work.

01 Given identity
The background you begin with.

02 Earned identity
What you have learned and built.

03 Online identity
The spaces where you appear online.

04 Skills
What you can do and practise.

05 Values
What guides your choices.

06 Story
What shaped you and where you are going.

07 Wellbeing
Readings over time, when available.

08 Sharing choices
What you keep private or share.

Schematic screen sketch. Retain the existing Aura artwork/geometry in the next prototype. Friendly labels preserve canonical node meanings.

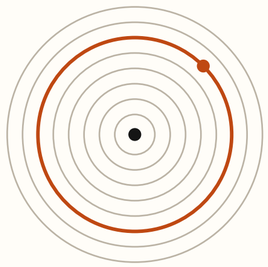

Land > understand > join > tell > explore > review.

Six scenes. Only public-facing content appears inside the browser frames. All new routes are proposed.

Build my identity

All eight meanings are visible before the visitor does anything.

02 Choose to build

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/start

A place to keep your identity.

Start with your own story. You decide what to share.

Continue with Google

One recognisable sign-in action. Existing owners can return to their identity.

03 Choose a Google account

accounts.google.com
/… (generated by Google)

G Choose an account

Asha / asha@example.org

to continue to Identity | The Internet of Value

Google verifies sign-in; Identity opens or creates the IoV member identity.

04 Tell your story

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/build/story

What shaped you?

Private

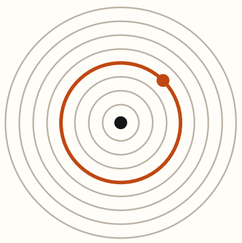

A moment, a change, a place to begin...

Continue

Past, now and future prompts appear one at a time. No duplicate reflection form.

05 Explore a chosen layer

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/build/layers/skills

What can you do?

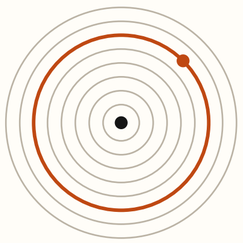

Photography and community facilitation.

Continue

Choose another layer on the Aura, or skip. No sensitive fields are required.

06 Review your own words

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/build/review

Does this feel like you?

Read the draft portrait. Edit any part before keeping it.

Keep this as my identity

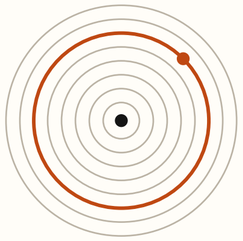

Confirmation saves reviewed words privately. Nothing is published.

See the whole identity. Return, change it, choose what to share.

The useful endpoint is /me. Public sharing is optional; no need to fill all eight layers.

07 Your full private identity

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/me

Asha's identity

Story: I am making more room for creative work.

Edit this layer

Normal return home. Manage account/export/deletion in proposed /me/settings.

08 Change one layer

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/me/edit/skills

What are you practising?

Private

Photography, facilitation and learning to listen better.

Save changes

Return to the selected layer. Imported/issuer-owned records retain their source.

09 Add a useful source

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/me/context

Add a link or certificate.

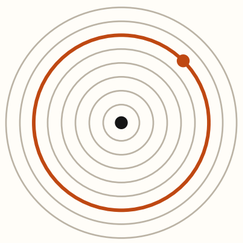

A project, a learning or a moment that adds to your story.

Save

Reuse the existing evidence editor. The item remains private until shared.

10 Choose public details

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/me/sharing

What can others see?

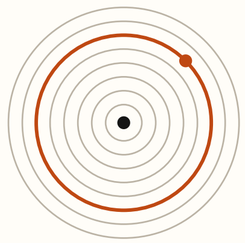

Choose the details you want someone else to see.

Preview public identity

Private is the starting point. Unselected details stay out of the public response.

11 Check the exact result

identity.theinternetofvalue.org
/me/sharing/review

This is what visitors see.

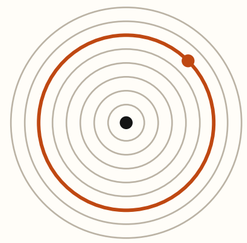

My story and the sources I have chosen to share.

Publish selected details

One explicit publication action. Keep private is a quiet way to exit.

12 Your optional public page

theinternetofvalue.org
/wellbeing-identity/people/{handle}

A life, still becoming.

I am making more room for creative work.

Owner management stays at Identity /me. Withdraw sharing without losing private work.
